Slot Machine Bribe Case On At Mt. Clemens

MT. CLEMENS, Mich.—(P)—The bribe conspiracy trial of former state senator Ivan Johnston, many times delayed, opened in Macomb circuit court today.

Judge John Simpson of Jackson, a specially appointed jurist, is hearing the case. The trial is expected to last about two weeks.

Johnston, who was Mt. Clemens prosecutor from 1940 to 1943, is accused of accepting a bribe to permit gambling establishments to operate in Macomb county while he was prosecutor.

One witness the prosecution is expected to call is Arthur P. Sauve, former Mt. Clemens area slot machine "king." The state charges Sauve once gave Johnston a $100 bribe.

Edward Jacob, who brought charges against Johnston while he held the prosecutor's post in 1948, has been appointed a special assistant attorney general to prosecute the current case.

There was a lively row between Michigan attorney general Stephen Roth and former governor Kim Sigler over prosecution of the case.

Judge Paul R. Cash of Alma, formerly the presiding judge, formerly Sigler as special prosecutor, Roth objected and the state supreme court upheld him. Then Jacob was appointed.

Much of the state's evidence was developed in a one-man grand jury probe made by circuit judge Herman Dehnke.

Railway Strike Move Imminent

CHICAGO—(P)—The threatened strike of 110,000 locomotive firemen and engineers still hangs heavy over the nation's railroads.

The union, demanding a third crew member on multiple-unit diesel engines, called in more of its officers for further executive committee talks today on strike action.

The union, having exhausted all legal meditation requirements, is at liberty to call a strike at any time.

If the union members should walk out, they might have similar support from the 90,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who also have fought for a third crew member.

In both cases, presidential fact-finding boards have supported the railroads' contention that the additional man is not needed.

The unions insist that the third man is necessary for safe operation of trains, but the carriers called the demands an attempt at "feather-bedding" and said that all necessary factors for safety have become standard equipment on diesel engines.

Body In River

MT. CLEMENS—(P)—The body of Leo Bretzman, 45, missing from his Mt. Clemens home since Feb. 18, was found in the Clinton river Sunday near the spot where his empty car was located some time ago. Police said the car apparently skidded into the river.

STALIN'S NEW FORTRESS — The Newsmap above shows strategic location of Russia's new Baltic bastion as a defense for Leningrad. It was off Latvia that a U. S. Navy patrol plane vanished recently, following an encounter with Soviet fighter planes. The USSR protested that the plane "violated the Soviet frontier," and admitted it was fired on by Red planes.

Legion Group Asks Governor To Outlaw Michigan Communists

LANSING — (P)—An American Legion anti-Communist conference Sunday asked Governor Williams to recommend outlawing the Communist party in Michigan.

Sponsored by Charles G. Oakman, Detroit councilman, the resolution asked for action by the current special session of the legislature. The governor must open subjects before they can be considered by the special session.

Weary Lansing Solons Return

LANSING — (P)—Bench-weary with waiting for the state's new budget to be unveiled, Michigan's legislature returns tonight for its sixth week of passive resistance against Governor Williams' program.

Both chambers will reconvene at 7 p. m. They have been in recess since Friday morning.

Leaders of the House and Senate appropriations committees indicated that at least another week—and maybe longer—must elapse before they will have completed their budget-slashing conferences and have the 1950-51 appropriation bills ready for inspection.

The G. O. P. legislative majority is hoping for a 10 per cent reduction in the budget from this year's level.

The Senate has on its desk a series of five bills drafted by a Republican investigating committee to plug leaks in public welfare. They will be held for debate until tomorrow, however.

Plane Plunge Kills 3 Near Washington, Pa.

WASHINGTON, Pa.—(P)—Three young men were killed yesterday as their small cabin airplane crashed and burned near the Washington county airport.

The victims were identified as Richard Spencer, about 30, a glass-worker and part time instructor at the Tri-State Aviation school; Leroy Couts, 24, a student pilot, and Harland Robinson, also about 24. All lived in Washington.

The bodies were badly burned as the four-place plane struck a hillside and burst into flames.

Theme Sounded For Fair Deal 1950 Campaign

President's Politics Rapped By Critics

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, (P)—An applauding wing of his party prepared a champion-of-the-people campaign role for President Truman today on the strength of his veto of the Kerr natural gas bill.

Mr. Truman killed the bill Saturday in an action critics labeled as "purely political" and supporters said was "sound and timely."

The measure would have prevented the Federal Power Commission from regulating the sales of natural gas by so-called independents, who produce 80 per cent of the product but don't operate pipelines.

Congress approved the bill despite charges by opponents that it would pave the way for an increase in the price of gas to consumers. While its proponents denied this vigorously, Mr. Truman made clear that was on his mind when he sent the bill back to Congress labeled "not in the public interest."

Unless the independents are subject to federal regulation, the president said, "there is a clear possibility that competition will not be effective, at least in some cases, in holding prices to reasonable levels."

Mistake, Says Kerr
Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), one of the measure's chief opponents, put into words the thought of some Democrats who want Mr. Truman to array himself as a champion of the little fellow in this year's campaign for control of Congress.

Said Douglas: "God bless the president of the United States. He has once again shown he is the true defender of the common people."

Said Senator Ellender (D-La.), who supported the measure: "I think the president's veto was purely political."

Said Senator Kerr (D-Okla.), one of the bill's authors: "The president has made a mistake. Time will prove that the consuming areas which need abundant supplies of natural gas will receive less gas and at higher prices than if the bill had been approved."

Pressure Too Strong
Talking to reporters later, Kerr dismissed any idea that supporters might try to override the veto. However, he protested quickly when one newsman suggested

Food Official Forced To Quit In Britain As Farmers Complain

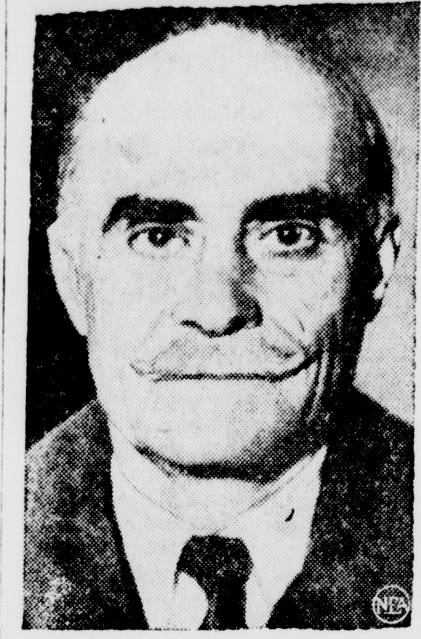

LONDON — (P)—Following bitter criticism by Britain's farmers, Stanley Evans resigned yesterday from his post as No. 2 man in the Ministry of Food.

Recent remarks by Evans that British agriculture was "feather-bedded" and "privileged" have brought angry protests from the powerful National Farmers Union (N. F. U.).

Population Drops At Marquette Prison

MARQUETTE, Mich.—(P)—Census figures gathered by enumerators at the Marquette prison today showed 878 inmates there, almost 200 below the record 1,046 convicts listed in 1929.

Clarence J. Vaughan, supervisor of records at the prison, said he and an assistant compiled information from five different sets of prison records in order to fill in the census forms. Records were so complete, he said, that in no case was it necessary to contact individual prisoners in order to gather any census data.

NEW GREEK PREMIER — Gen. Nicholas Plastiras, above, as the new premier of Greece, has formed a new Greek center coalition government, pledged to carry out broad financial and administrative reforms recommended by administrators of the United States program for aid to Greece.

The new government promised to work for tax reform which would result in higher taxes for the wealthy and alleviate the burden for the poorer classes. The cabinet has the support of 136 members of the 250-man parliament.

Spring Weather Out Of Slump

(By The Associated Press)

The spring weather is something to cheer about almost everywhere over the nation today.

The only subfreezing temperatures were in the northeastern states and along a narrow band southwestward into eastern Kentucky, where Corbin reported a low of 29 degrees.

Elsewhere, the mercury had climbed to at least seasonal levels. Most benefited area, probably is the wheatland of the Great Plains where a weekend of rains had ended any further immediate threat of widespread dust storms. The moisture was locally heavy in some parts of Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and southern Nebraska. Some additional rainfall was reported today in Oklahoma and eastern Texas.

Two tornadoes accompanied the rainfall in Texas, however. Both of them struck Saturday night near Whiteface, about 45 miles southwest of Lubbock. Five persons were injured and some damage was reported.

A high of 84 degrees at Los Angeles yesterday sent an estimated 627,000 persons to nearby beaches.

White House Aide Goes On Trial For Lying To Senate

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON — (P)—John Maragon, who used to dash in and out of the White House as the friend of presidential aide Harry Vaughan, goes on trial today on charges of lying to Senate investigators.

A grand jury accused Maragon last January of lying four times about the Senate inquiry into activities of five percenters—men who represent others in dealings with the government, for a cut that usually amounts to five per cent.

The talkative little Greek-American, who used to shine shoes in Kansas City and then became a man about town in Washington, has pleaded not guilty. If convicted, he could be jailed for two to ten years on each count of the indictment—a maximum of 40.

One is Dr. Alvin C. Graves of the Los Alamos atomic laboratory, a civilian who is deputy commander under Quesada. Graves was deputy scientific director of the last Eniwetok tests.

Coxey's Army Leader Still Active At 96

MASSILON, O.—Back in 1894 a man with a plan for non-interest bonds led an army of unemployed marchers to Washington.

That was a long time ago, but the leader of the group is still living. He is "General" Jacob S. Coxey, who became 96 years old yesterday.

Dignified in his characteristic stiff collar, he makes daily trips when the weather is good. He discusses current events with a keen mind.

He told reporters yesterday that he approved of President Truman,

Mrs. Roosevelt Show Becomes Free-For-All

Gen. Hurley Attacks Yalta Secret Pact

NEW YORK—(P)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's Sunday television show turned into a verbal free-for-all when Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley attacked the late president's Yalta conference.

The general, a wartime and post-war ambassador to China and President Hoover's secretary of war, blamed "a secret agreement at Yalta" for the Chinese Communist sweep.

Hostess Warm Up
His charge and further arguments drew heated replies from his hostess, who was backed up by the three other guests on the NBC forum program.

These were:
Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, (D-Wash.), of the Senate inter-state and foreign commerce committee.
Dr. John King Fairbank, head of the Harvard School of Chinese studies.

Richard Lauterbach, newspaper man and foreign correspondent.
The old soldier and diplomat, asked by Mrs. Roosevelt to lead off a discussion of China, told of his missions to Russia and China for FDR.

Charter Surrendered

Then warning up, he told her that "at Yalta your diplomats surrendered all the principles of the Atlantic Charter."

"Are you differentiating between yours and Mrs. Roosevelt's?" cut in Lauterbach.
"You can bet your bottom dollar that I don't give up," said the general. "I would not have surrendered every principle for which America said she was fighting."

Hurley then charged that Yalta violated China's integrity by giving Port Arthur back to Russia.

Settlement Near In Chrysler Strike, Now 83 Days Old

DETROIT — (P)—The door seemed open today for an early settlement of the costly, 83-day Chrysler strike.

Optimism prevailed although the CIO United Auto Workers rejected yesterday what Chrysler Corp. termed its "final" offer in the stubborn pension dispute.

As negotiations resumed today, observers pointed out that none of the six objections the UAW listed were vital issues. They also said it seemed probable Chrysler would be willing to reword parts of its proposal to get a settlement.

One thing appeared certain—that in principle the two sides are closer than at any time since 29,000 Chrysler workers walked off their jobs Jan. 25.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther underlined that point when he said after yesterday's offer:

"We are glad that at this date Chrysler has finally agreed to provide pensions for their workers guaranteed by a sound pension trust fund."

The means of financing $100-a-month pensions for workers who are 65 years of age and have 25 years' service has been the hub of the dispute.

Chrysler described its proposal, which gives the UAW a choice of three pension systems, "the best pension and insurance offer that any large company in the automotive industry has ever offered the union."

In any of the three plans, Chrysler would pay pensions of $100 a month, including Social Security.

The UAW rejection brought charges from corporation Vice President Herman L. Weckler that "union purposes which have nothing to do with the declared strike objectives" have prolonged the strike.

"One fact seems unmistakably clear," Weckler added. "This strike cannot be for sound pension and insurance benefits. Those are on the table."

Chrysler said one of the choices it offered the union was a "20-year level premium funding plan" like the one the UAW accepted earlier from the Ford Motor Co. Another was establishment of an actuarially sound trust fund backed by a $30,000,000 sum, similar to the funding method used in the Bethlehem Steel Co. pension plan.

The third, management spokesmen said, would follow a system worked out at United States Steel Co., by which the corporation would pay into a fund money to cover years already worked by each employee and future service credits as the employee works toward earning pensions.

Stores Burned At Greenville

GREENVILLE, Mich.—(P)—Smoking, smouldering flames gouged through five stores in the heart of Greenville's business district last night.

Approximately 60 firemen from six communities fought the blaze for eight hours before bringing it under control early this morning.

No accurate estimate of damage could be made immediately, but the blaze, which continued to smoulder today in the buildings' basements, is believed to have resulted in more than $100,000 worth of loss.

Greenville Fire Chief Art Peterson, one of two men overcome by breathing the smoke, said he believed the blaze started in the basement of the McClellan Dollar store. It spread into an adjoining J. C. Penney Company store, only recently remodeled, and to Gittleman's Dress Shop, Cook's Youth store and Nielson's Jewelry store.

Greenville has a population of 5,321 and is located 25 miles northeast of Grand Rapids.

George Burke Quits Civil Service Post After Criticism

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(P)—George Burke, Sr., resigned today from the state civil service commission in protest against criticism.

Burke wrote his resignation in a letter to Gov. G. Mennen Williams in response to criticism of the commission for its attempts to maintain Louis A. Kunzig in his $10,380 job as business manager for the state liquor commission last fall.

It is stupid to say we have any desire to override the responsible heads of various state agencies," Burke said. "We have never posed as czars."

The liquor commission had maintained the attempt to oust Kunzig was made on the basis of "economy." Critics interpreted it as "political raiding" on the part of the liquor commission.

Steps Off Bridge

DETROIT—(P)—A well-dressed, elderly man who "just smiled and stepped off" the Belle Isle bridge despite police shouts Sunday night was reported in serious condition at Receiving hospital. He refused to give his name after a harbormaster crew pulled him out of the Detroit river.

Fire Inspection Starts Today

Spring Clean-Up Is Advocated

The spring fire inspection got under way in Escanaba today. Beginning today, each business place is being checked for fire hazards from basement to attic. Inspection sheets will be filled out and sent to each place of business so that owners may take the proper steps for elimination of hazards.

Fire Captain Clarence Schrader today asked residents of Escanaba for their active participation in the spring clean-up fire prevention campaign. He warned that fire hazards often are intensified by winter neglect and make spring an especially dangerous season.

Captain Schrader explained that the spring clean-up is intended to encourage removal of common hazards which cause 90 per cent of all fires. About 11,000 persons were killed by fire last year and property damage was estimated at $667,536,000.

Among common fire hazards, Captain Schrader listed accumulations of debris and other unnecessary combustible material, flammable liquids, dirty stoves and lamps, dirty chimneys, flammable roofs, dirty and defective heating plants, and dirty and defective electrical appliances.

Hospital

Gary Brown, four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown, 1200 South 13th street, was returned Sunday from Marquette where he has been receiving treatment at St. Luke hospital the past three and a half months for a stomach disturbance. His condition is reported good.

Oregon's population of deer, elk, antelope and bear is estimated by wildlife officials at 654,000.

C&NW Railway Honors Schumacher And Cullen

Frank Schumacher, Escanaba, Peninsula "400" baggageman, and Arthur C. Cullen, retired C. & N. W. railway station agent at Peshtigo, Wis., were presented with 50-year service pins at appropriate ceremonies arranged by the Veterans' Association of the Chicago and North Western railway last weekend.

L. C. Reynolds, superintendent of the Peninsula division, made the presentation to Schumacher on the arrival of C. & N. W. streamliner at the Escanaba station Friday morning. Local members of the Veterans' association were on hand to congratulate Schumacher.

Born in Geneva, Ill., Feb. 20, 1879, Schumacher entered the employ of the C. & N. W. as a trainman on April 1, 1900. He is now serving as baggageman on the Peninsula "400" streamliner.

Supt. Reynolds and George E. Harvey, Escanaba, member of the system board of directors of the Veterans' association, went to Peshtigo Saturday to make the presentation of the 50-year pin to Cullen. About forty Peshtigo business and professional men attended the ceremonies, which were held at the Peshtigo station. Cullen was presented with a bouquet of flowers from the Peshtigo Chamber of Commerce.

Born in Waldo, Wis., Aug. 23, 1872, Cullen joined the C. & N. W. as a telephone operator at Stager on April 15, 1900, exactly 50 years before the presentation of the pin. He worked at Narenta for awhile before transferring to Peshtigo, where he was retired on Nov. 25, 1949.

Bell Telephone Raises Wages

Operators Increase Despite Dials

The Michigan Bell Telephone company reported today that it granted 42,000 individual pay increases last year although there was no change in basic wage rates under contracts with unions representing most of its employees.

G. A. Marcouiller, manager for the company, said the increases averaged five per cent for employees of the company and raised Michigan Bell's payroll $5,500,000 to $75,500,000.

All of the increases were granted under the company's wage and salary progression policy, Marcouiller said. The policy calls for pay raises at regular intervals as employees advance in service with the company until they have reached the top rates for their classification.

Approximately 2,500 employees, or 10 per cent of the company's personnel, were promoted to better jobs in the Michigan Bell or other Bell System companies during the year, according to Marcouiller.

Marcouiller reported the company has two and one-half times as many employees today as it did 10 years ago.

"This is particularly significant," he said, "in view of the claims, from time to time, that technological improvements lead to unemployment in the telephone industry."

"There have been many technical advances in the telephone art in the last 10 years. The proportion of dial telephones to the total in service has gone up from 81 to 85 per cent. Operator toll dialing has been introduced to permit operators to dial straight through to distant cities. Yet, despite these and other important developments, the number of Michigan Bell operators has increased from 2,700 to 7,200 in 10 years."

Marcouiller said that 44 per cent of the company's employees have been with Michigan Bell more than five years. One out of six has more than 20 years of service with the company.

Although there are more than 13,000 women among the 22,200 employees, turnover of employment at the company was less than half the average for all manufacturing industry in 1949, according to Marcouiller. It amounted to 16 1/2 per cent of the total personnel and only 4 per cent for male employees. Most women leaving the company, he pointed out, do so for marriage or family reasons.

BILL THRIFTY'S DIARY

Monday:
Too lazy to do anything but read a magazine and listen to the radio. Wonder how folks spent their evenings before radio came on the scene.

Tuesday:
Judging from the biographies, thrift and success go hand in hand. As Andrew Carnegie used to say: "Thrift is a great fortune maker."

Wednesday:
Wonder what happens to those big $30,000 winners on the give-away radio shows. By the time Uncle Sam's revenue boys get through with them there can't be very much left.

Thursday:
Read in the papers where robbers got away with a lot of money that some old fellow had hidden under his mattress. A mattress is all right to sleep on but it was never intended to be used as a parking lot for money.

Friday:
Made my usual weekly deposit in my savings account. Never thought much of the value of a dollar until I started to save. Even a dollar a week, put away in a savings account, can run up to a mighty hefty sum in the course of time.

Saturday:
Mary says that what this country needs is a government that will follow the first precept of sound home management—"live within your income." Wonder how a woman would work out as director of the budget.

Outsiders Ask About Smelt

Publicity Arouses Much Interest

While the smelt have not begun their spawning runs yet, there is a tremendous amount of interest in the silvery fish in Chicago and other distant cities.

Hugh Grow, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, has been getting inquiries for several days from sportsmen and service clubs who wish to buy fresh smelt for their dinner meetings. One letter came from the volunteer fire department in a small town in New York.

The Chicago Herald-American and other Middle West newspapers have been publishing news stories concerning the forthcoming smelt runs, and as a result the Escanaba C. of C. has received inquiries from persons who plan to come to Escanaba to witness the smelt dipping activities.

The Chicago Motor club, Chicago Travel club and Chicago Tribunes have asked that telegrams be sent to them collect as soon as the smelt start running.

RUN AT EAST JORDAN

EAST JORDAN—(P)—One of the heaviest smelt runs in years is under way here and local fishermen assert it will be several days before the peak is reached.

The run started unexpectedly Friday night, and soon after word spread among the local folk they were dipping them up in bushel quantities. Lacking containers, some of the dippers loaded the trunks of their cars with them.

The run is located at the mouth of the Jordan river as it empties into Lake Charlevoix. It is the heaviest run thus far reported in the area.

Auto Tax Fund Fails To Solve Road Fanning

William J. Karas, superintendent-engineer of the Delta county road commission, today directed attention to the fact that receipt of auto license funds from the state on May 1 will not solve the financial plight of the county highway department.

Of a total $178,403.14 to be received in Delta county, the road commission will get $125,296.79, the city of Escanaba $38,865.32, the city of Gladstone $13,030.25, and the village of Garden $1,210.08.

The road commission has already borrowed $40,000 from the county so far this year, which will have to be repaid, reducing the available county road funds to about $85,296.71 as of May 1 Karas said. Last year the available road commission funds as of May 1 totaled $116,830.30 after reimbursing the county for a loan to meet operating costs during the winter months.

More snow plowing and ice control work last winter, plus the road graveling program last year, increased expenditures and will make less funds available to the commission this year, after repayment of the county loan.

Two Injured In Accidents Here

Pedestrian, Cyclist Struck By Autos

Two persons were injured in traffic accidents in Escanaba over the weekend, one of them critically.

Otto Dahlbeck, 73, of 912 Montana avenue, Gladstone, is in critical condition in St. Francis hospital as a result of injuries sustained Saturday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile in Escanaba at the Y intersection of Stephenson avenue, Washington avenue and Sheridan road.

Dahlbeck, who was walking east across the intersection was struck by Eric Stoneclift, 1114 North 18th street, Escanaba, who was driving north on Washington avenue. Dahlbeck sustained severe lacerations and concussion. His condition was reported to be unsatisfactory this morning.

Stoneclift was ticketed for reckless driving but will not be arraigned for a day or two, pending a further determination of Dahlbeck's condition.

Dahlbeck had been visiting his wife, who is a patient at St. Francis hospital with a fractured leg.

William Cass, 12 years old, of 211 South 11th street, sustained a fracture of the leg when a car driven by Mrs. Don Anderson, 224 Lake Shore Drive, struck the bicycle that Cass was riding at the intersection of 10th street and Second avenue south Sunday evening at nine o'clock.

Mrs. Anderson was travelling east on Second avenue south. She stopped at the 10th street arterial intersection but struck the Cass boy when she proceeded across the intersection. Cass was driving his bicycle diagonally across the intersection, from northeast to southwest.

Fire Destroys Dickerson Home

Pine Ridge Family Escapes Injury

Homeless today and without household furnishings, the Harold Dickerson family of Pine Ridge today were nonetheless grateful for having escaped with their lives in an early Sunday morning fire that destroyed their one and one-half story dwelling.

The fire, believed to have started from defective wiring, was discovered at 1:15 a. m. Sunday by Dickerson.

Aroused from sleep, Dickerson assisted his wife and their two children, a boy 5 and a girl 6 years old, out of the burning house.

Most of their clothing and all but a couple pieces of furniture were destroyed in the blaze. The house was owned by Joseph Decker of Powers. Dickerson, a World War II veteran, estimated his loss at $500. The value of the dwelling was not reported.

The Escanaba fire department responded to a call for assistance but the fire had gained so much headway that the house was destroyed.

In 1946 the Dickersons burned out of another house they were occupying at Pine Ridge, according to officers of the sheriff's department.

Know Fire Safety Rules For Protecting Life And Property

CAPT. NELS BERGEON of the Escanaba fire department, commenting on the fact that fire losses in America are now at a 20 year high, has offered some important suggestions for reducing these losses. They are particularly important to the fire defenses of this community and the Escanaba Daily Press joins with Capt. Bergeon and the entire Escanaba fire department in urging you to learn these rules of fire safety.

It has been pointed out by Capt. Bergeon that in many instances where there has been loss of life due to fires in this country, the fire department did not know of the existence of the fires until too late. Prompt notification is vitally important to fire protection. The best equipment or the finest trained personnel is meaningless unless the fire is reported promptly. Even a delay of a couple minutes may mean the difference between a nominal fire loss and a disaster.

Capt. Bergeon's rules for fire safety follow:

1. The fire department is for your convenience and protection. In any case where fire is suspected, call the department immediately. An ounce of prevention has untold worth in saving life and property. Call 18-W or 18-R, or if you cannot remember these numbers, simply call FIRE and give the operator your address. This will bring immediate results.

2. Know where your nearest fire alarm box is located. Operation of the box is simple. Just pull the knob and let go. When you use the fire alarm box, make sure you have operated the box mechanism correctly by listening for a clicking noise.

3. Stay by the fire alarm box or station someone else there to direct the firemen to the fire.
4. Avoid being trapped while telephoning an alarm. Protection of life is the first essential. If you don't hear a hum on the telephone lines, the wires may have burned out.

5. Be sure to give your correct street and house address. If time permits, also give the type of fire, such as roof, grass, chimney, etc.

6. See page one of your telephone book for directions regarding emergency calls. No call is too trivial to warrant inspection.

FLOWER OF HOPE

When the pink and white beauty of the trailing arbutus shows among winter-brown and sodden leaves, one knows that Winter is over and gone. Mayflower is the common name. But if one searches on the warm south slopes at the edge of a woodland, or along the edge of a field where the gray birches, poplars and wild cherries mingle with starting pines and hemlocks, he usually finds that flower toward the end of April.

The evergreen leaves are blotched and faded by winter snows and frosts; but the appealing beauty of the small flowers and their distinctive fragrance are cheering omens of the new season. One can imagine the pleasure of the Pilgrims when the arbutus blossoms opened in Plymouth after that first harsh winter. The blooms are in strange, incongruous contrast to the tough, hairy, brown creeping stems that work their way along the surface of the cold earth. The season's new leaves appear in June; their surface is rough and netted with fine veins.

Technically, the flowers are five-sided and tubular; commonly the flowers are dimorphic, that is, confined to staminate and pistillate forms. The flowers bear nectar generously and on a sunny April day one often sees big black and gold queen bumblebees climbing over the blossoms. But scientific technicalities matter little when Year has worked along toward the end of the fourth month and a man can go out on the hillside and discover Mayflowers. If you must have a few blooms for the house, cut them with scissors or with a very sharp knife. Trailing arbutus has been the flower of hope to countless pioneer families as a new nation was built and the frontiers extended from the Atlantic to the heartland. On an April day blended of blue skies, white clouds, bluebirds and Mayflowers, one is grateful for the promise of a new year on the climbing side of summer.—By Haydn Pearson.

Reducin'

You can test a fellow's character in many kinds of ways, for he's bound to show his mettle when he works and when he plays. But the biggest test of all is when he's ordered to reduce, and his doctor says a diet will produce a figure spruce. Then he says farewell to fatty foods and loud bemoans his fate, and the stuff that he must henceforth eat because he's overweight.

It's a bunch of stringy rabbit food that greets him every meal, and he's sure that he's the victim of a very dirty deal. Thoughts of lettuce make him shudder and some cabbage makes him sick, and a carrot—well, he shuts his eyes and eats the darn thing quick. Bits of toast that aren't buttered and some fruit juice 'stead of pie, and when others order heavy meals there's murder in his eye.

Now most people, when they dream of all the things they want in life, think a million dollars certainly would end their earthly strife. But the fellow who's reducin' dreams of thick and juicy steaks, and a heap of mashed potatoes is a dish for which he aches. Can you blame him if, when others sleep, he sometimes will retreat, and go raid the kitchen icebox for the things he loves to eat?

Merry-Go-Round Too Much Paint on the Brush . . .

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—With congress facing an early, election-year adjournment, one of the worst legislative log jams in history is piling up in the senate and threatening to stall the Truman Fair Deal program.

Despite this mountain of unfinished work, however, Democratic leaders have found time to take up two bills completely contrary to the Fair Deal program—the Kerr natural gas bill and the basing point bill, driving loopholes in the antitrust laws.

As a result, some Republicans are thinking of reversing the tables on Truman and making a whistle-stop campaign of their own. They would use Truman's own speeches against the 80th congress to attack the 81st congress.

Disregarding the politics, however, here is the legislative outlook:

Congress has less than four months to go before adjourning for the election campaign. Even now, senators and congressmen are slipping away to make campaign speeches.

Nevertheless, the senate hasn't even called up the civil rights bills, the appropriations bills, or tackled the complicated task of liberalizing the social security laws to include 12,000,000 new workers and increase the unemployment benefits.

The Brannan farm plan to support farm income and get rid of unmanageable food stockpiles, is bogged down in the senate agriculture committee, while Herbert Hoover's 21 plans to streamline the federal government are getting nowhere fast.

EASTER VACATION

This still leaves the president's controversial health insurance program, the military aid program, and federal aid to education. The president also promised statehood to Hawaii and Alaska, but the hearings haven't even started in the senate.

Congress must also decide whether to continue rent controls and renew the draft, to say nothing of revising the tax structure and abolishing excise taxes. Another tough one is the president's point 4 program to give technical assistance to backward areas.

The blunt truth is congress has a great deal to do, and little time to do it in. Meanwhile, the house, taking a leaf from the president's Key West book, took a leisurely Easter vacation, while both houses took time to push two bills, aiding the natural gas companies and the big monopolies.

FORGOT HIS FRIEND

There was only one sour note when freshman Sen. Herbert Lehman of New York took the floor to eulogize the late Franklin D. Roosevelt on the fifth anniversary of his death. Ironically, the sour note was struck by a Democrat who rode FDR's coattails to keep his seat in the senate.

Republicans who were in the chamber—including Langer of North Dakota, Hendrickson of New Jersey, Gordon of Oregon, Schoepel and Darby of Kansas—remained respectfully in their seats as Lehman began his memorial speech.

So did the Democrats, even crochety Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, who fought FDR furiously on most issues.

The only man who walked out, rather than listen to a few fine words spoken for the man who once saved him from defeat, was Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma.

In 1938 when Thomas faced a desperate election battle in the Democratic primary, Franklin Roosevelt detoured his train through Oklahoma in answer to frantic pleas from Thomas, let the worried senator stand beside him on the back platform, and even made a statement about the fine work of "my friend" Elmer.

But when this same president's death was memorialized in the senate last week, his "friend" Elmer walked out.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

WORDS TO WATCH

Heard recently at a yacht basin: "It's a fact that 'sa beautiful Chriscraf' and so well kept I wouldn't object to it as a gift."

A far too common error in American speech is that of dropping the final "t" in such words as soft, least, best, rest, most, raft, rept, correct, reject, left, and so on.

I do not advise making a fetish of final "t" by overemphasizing it, as some too-precise broadcasters do. But we should pronounce the "t" discernably, especially in any form of public speaking.

I think I should also give Southerners a little scolding, in what Admiral Halsey called "a friendly fashion," for omitting "t" in certain words, as "see," for self; "hep," for help; "him" for him.

Such errors as these are of small consequence in intimate or casual conversation. But they act as stoplights when they are heard in serious or formal speech; and it is wise to be on guard against them.

An archaism which has been noticed in the speech of a few members of congress is the pronunciation "toe" for the preposition to, as, "I want toe make it clear toe all of you that I intend toe cling toe my convictions." Apparently this dialectal pronunciation is a survival from the Elizabethan speech which was brought to the New World by the colonists, for the Anglo-Saxon word to was pronounced "toe" a few hundred years ago. But today, of course, to is pronounced exactly like toe and two.

"Tray" for trait is the customary British pronunciation, influenced by the French pronunciation treh. But neither occurs in Standard American. Trait should rhyme with straight.

The word distract means "absent-minded; inattentive because of anxiety or pain." All dictionaries without exception pronounce the word diss-TRAY, a pronunciation which I cannot recall ever having heard. Distract doesn't occur often in conversation; but when it does, the American, I feel sure, will pronounce it: diss-TRAYT. Distract, "bewildered; distracted; agitated," is: diss-TRAWT.

A dog kennel was ordered moved when barking records were played in a suit brought by neighbors. A howling success.

It doesn't count when the rubber you get in bridge comes from peeking into the hand of another player.

New Season Finds Baseball Still In Top Role As National Sport

By BRIAN FRANKLIN

Once more all over the land there echoes the thrilling sound of stout ashen bat as it smacks horseshoe out of the lot, and tens of millions of Americans rejoice that the baseball season is back again.

From big leagues to the ten-year olds playing catch down the street, and all the intervening professional, semi-pro, school and playground teams, baseball once again asserts its position as the national pastime.

It is a far cry from that day in 1839, when Major General Abner Doubleday designed the first modern diamond at Cooperstown, N. Y., to the present, but throughout that whole period it has a pre-eminent place as a sport they enjoy both as spectators and as participants.

Strictly American

On its way to its present position baseball traveled a tortuous course and a tempestuous struggle once was waged over its parentage. International amity, even, was menaced. Some patronizingly said the game was a modification of the English game of rounders. Others said it had its origin in cricket. Still others ascribed it to the game of hockey or lacrosse as played by the American Indians. And it has been traced by some back to the Egyptians, the Greeks, and the Romans.

Consensus, however, seemed to favor a strictly American origin for the game. It cared not that the scribbled by Horace was described by Horace as playing a game resembling hop-scotch. It ignored the fact that the medicine men prescribed ball bouncing as a reducer for rotund patrons of the ancient Roman baths. It could see no connection between apartments called sphæsteria, where the Romans played ball, and diamonds where Americans played it.

Right or wrong, it seems to have won the argument that baseball was strictly an American game. What made it such was not the ball but the "base" part of the pastime's name. The Romans, the Greeks, the English and other Europeans, and also the American Indians played ball games, but not with bases. That settled the argument to the satisfaction of most historians of the game.

All kinds of rules and, consequently, a wide variety of games were being played during the 1840s. There were games known as "New York ball" and "New England ball." The New England variety also was known as "town ball." The name grew out of the fact that the game was played by everyone on town meeting days, although it was essentially the game of three-hole cat or four-hole cat played on a mass scale, with dozens on the field or commons. Whether the game was "old cat" or "hole" cat produced a decided difference of opinion. The latter has claim to priority, apparently, because holes, not bases, constituted the objective of the batter or runner.

Threw Ball At Runner

Town ball had one particularly interesting nuance. A runner could be put out by being hit by a thrown ball and no limitation was placed upon the speed with which the ball might be thrown or where it might hit. This rule, described as "cruel" by many commentators on the game, in some cases had a qualification which gave the runner a chance. It was left to him to say whether or not he had been hit. If he could keep his face from registering the pain he felt, his story that he was "safe" not only advanced him a base but exalted him in many eyes as a stoical, courageous fellow though possibly deficient in variety.

Gradually, however, this feature of the game expired. Along with it went another that presents the other side of the story of the batter who waited all afternoon for the type of pitch he preferred to hit. The rule in question was the one which permitted the pitcher to throw the ball as wide and wild as he pleased, thus putting him somewhat on a parity of privilege with the batter who could wait as long as he liked.

The formation of the famous Knickerbocker Club in New York in 1845 was the beginning of organized baseball.

Real Pitchers Then

While the Knickerbocker Club rules constituted the first formal code devised for the playing of the game and although they advanced it to a more orderly conduct and uniformity than before, they differ in many respects from the modern regulations. Pitchers, for instance, were real pitchers in those days in that they were forced to toss the ball underhanded, and with a stiff arm, to the batter.

"Throwing," which the modern pitcher does when he rifles his fast one toward the batter, was expressly forbidden by the Knickerbocker rules.

There were no such things as "runs" or "innings" in this first baseball code. Runs were called aces or counts. Instead of innings, the teams played a number of "hands." The game was played on the basis of 21 counts or aces. If both teams had 21 after each had the same number of hands it was a tie and another hand was played.

In those games a good catcher was more important than a good pitcher. Those 0 to 38 scores often were more the result of passed balls than of murderous slugging. Catching a third strike with bare hands was a high art, and to make the catcher's lot harder there was an unexplainable rule which required that he be standing on his feet when he made the catch. In one of the championship games of the time, the catcher of one team was guilty of missing 11 third strikes all of which figured in the scoring.

It was in 1857, or, some say, 1858, that two big changes came into the game. The Knickerbocker dominance was challenged. The Knickerbockers resisted, but the opposition was too powerful and the National Association of Baseball Players took charge of the game and rewrote and recoded the rules.

Professional Baseball Is Born

At this time the commercial possibilities of the games dawned upon club leaders who found that 50 cents admission could be charged to defray the cost of preparing the field and without cutting down the attendance. In this idea was born professional baseball although it was not until 1869 that the first paid team was collected, the famous Cincinnati Red Stockings. Playing all the way from Maine to California, this club established a record of winning 56 games and losing none.

Comparable in intensity to the controversy ranging earlier over the origin of baseball in this period was the eight-year battle over whether a baseball could be pitched in such a way as to make it curve. Spalding, a famous pitcher during the period, and Jacob C. Morse, another historian of baseball, agree that Arthur Cummings, pitcher for the Brooklyn Stars, discovered curve ball pitching.

History has it that those absolute indispensables of the modern baseball game, gloves and masks, did not make their appearance until the game was about 30 years old. The debut of both was rather turtive despite the fact that they grew out of great pain.

According to Spalding, whose stadium as a pitcher for Boston was contemporaneous with the development of both, Charles C. Waite, Boston first baseman, was the first to wear a glove on his hand.

F. W. Thayer, of Boston, captain of the Harvard University team in 1876-77, is credited with the invention of the first mask ever worn by a catcher.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

DATE FULFILLED—You may recall the recent item in this column concerning the manner in which Art Jensen aided in getting out the vote for the city council election.

Francis Rooney of Escanaba, just before leaving the city on a business trip, approached Art Jensen of a Barber Shop quartet, to request that the quartet sing at an Elks club function. Jensen was hesitant about it and to make conversation asked Rooney if he had voted. Rooney said he had not, but promised to vote before leaving town—if the quartet would sing.

"It's a deal," Jensen replied.

So Rooney voted—and tonight the quartet, composed of Jensen, Lowell Sundstrom, Ernie Peterson and Ken Thompson will sing at the Elks club father and son banquet.

SPRING HAS SPRANG—Just before the welcome warmth of the weekend the snow-bell-fed poet reported:

Spring has sprang and all is well, the Winter's passed but it's cold as—usual!

CORNY HUMOR—Charles Figy, director of the Michigan department of agriculture, has a fund of down-to-earth stories that amused Delta county farmers gathered in Escanaba Friday for a soil conservation meeting.

Figy and the other members of the state soil conservation committee had toured Delta county in the morning.

"We came to one place where we saw some pigs rooting around a pile of posts," Figy reported. "I asked the farmer if they raised much corn this far north, and told him how big the corn grows down on my place in Lower Michigan.

"Mister," he said, "you see those things over in that pile that look like posts? I said yes, I did. 'You talk about your big corn down below,' he said, 'well, we raise corn up here—and that's a pile of our corn cobs!'"

SAVE THE SOIL—Later in the soil conservation meeting Figy was reminded of another story, this time about how some farmers look down on the college-trained agronomist.

"It was down in Kentucky and I talked with a farmer whose place looked like it couldn't raise weeds, it was that poor," Figy said. "I told him he should practice soil conservation and asked him why he didn't call in the soils technician from his district.

"The farmer looked at me and laughed. 'I don't take no stock in that college expert,' he told me. 'Why, I've wore out more farms than he ever seen!'"

THE ARCHAEOLOGISTS—Are you interested in archaeology but do not have the time or funds to explore ancient Egypt? If you are, you can be an archaeologist in your own area of the state.

For Atty. William E. Anderson of Escanaba tells me that a Michigan Archaeological Society is being organized for Michigan people. Dr. Emerson F. Greenman, curator of the University of Michigan museum of anthropology, is secretary-treasurer of the society and the dues will be about $1 a year.

Atty. Anderson is interested in the society because of his hobby of collecting Indian artifacts from this neck of the woods.

CURBSTONE GUS SAYS—"Well, the circle is nearly complete. While the federal government is preparing to study the sea lamprey that is killing off Great Lakes trout, Michigan State college is studying ways of serving baked lamprey. You can't fool the experts."

Doctors and dentists can deduct the cost of office magazines from their income tax—if they can remember that far back.

There's one thing certain—our bubble gun tots never will turn out to be busts themselves.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Stockholm—The German army has bisected Norway by cutting a rail line from Trondheim to the Swedish border.

New York—Thomas E. Dewey said he would enter the Maryland preferential primary.

Escanaba—A hen pheasant crashed into the side of a building at 901 Ludington street and was killed.

Gladstone—Nine arrests were made for dipping smelt without licenses.

Chicago—Bob Feller, sensational young Cleveland fireball hurler, pitched a no-hit game in the season's opener to defeat the White Sox, 1-0.

Escanaba—Earl Taylor collected 1,825 pins in the U. P. bowling tournament here to put him third in the all-events.

20 YEARS AGO

Manistique—Between 300 and 400 men will be employed at Seul Choix this summer by the Inland Lime and Stone company.

Iron Mountain—St. Joseph Catholic church was destroyed by fire at a loss of $75,000.

Escanaba—Mrs. Marie Rose was elected worthy matron of R. C. Hathaway chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

New York—The stock market was wobbly as prices took a setback.

Escanaba—Sgt. Phil Bruce of the police department has received a N. R. A. medal for pistol shooting championship.

Gladstone—Co-operation of residents of the fourth census district of Gladstone is sought by Rev. T. Hoffmann, enumerator. He asks that residents stay at home as much as possible until counted.

The man who marries to have someone to tell his troubles to is likely to have plenty to talk about.

Traffic cops may know enough to come in out of the rain—but they have their job to do.

Dear Editor:

Several hundred million dollars' worth of ships, factory plants, jewels and other treasures captured from the Germans and the Japanese have vanished. by Herman Goering; platinum found in Tokyo Bay; ten million dollars' worth of mercury, found in a German U-boat enroute to Japan; scores of German and Japanese ships seized after the war; and a number of dismantled German plants.

Happy National Doughnut Week!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — National Doughnut Week begins today. And, naturally, millions of thoughtful Americans are going around saying to one another: "Good old national doughnut week has rolled around again. My isn't it good to have it back?"

But only a handful of these grateful citizens are aware of the deep historical significance behind national doughnut week—or just how it came about.

Now 13 Years Old
Well, it was born 13 years ago in the agile brain of Bert Nevins, a balding, cruller-shaped publicity man.

"It was the first of the food weeks," Bert recalled modestly. "Before that there were just things like Mother's Day, Arbor Day, the Fourth of July and National Baby Week."

Now, of course, there are weeks for all sorts of goodies—such as National Hot Tea Week, National Cold Tea Week, National Kraut and Frankfurter Week, National Pickle Week, National Honey Week and also National Honey for Breakfast Week.

The pioneering idea of setting a week apart for the nation to pause and ponder the blessings of the doughnut grew out of a stern reality in the industry—sales hit a peak at Halloween, slumped in the spring.

"Picking the right time was very important," said Nevins. "You don't want to have a food week during a period when there are holidays, as people have other things on their minds."

"We couldn't take the week before Easter because bakers are rushing to bake buns then. So we settled for a week in April after Easter."

Sales Quadrupled
And in the baker's dozen years since the doughnut muscled itself a place in the calendar sales have quadrupled. The $200,000,000 a year industry expects to sell 12,000,000,000 doughnuts in 1950.

"We don't think that National Doughnut Week alone is responsible for this increase," said Nevins, who has built himself a $100,000 annual business glorifying doughnuts, diapers, pretzels and cranberries. "But we do know that spring sales, which used to be small, now are almost equal to fall sales."

Some groups name a week for their product, say "National Frozen Dogfood Week" and let it go at that. Nevins uses every possible device to thrust doughnuts into the public mind.

This week, for example, his gimmicks include a new doughnut-shaped hair - do, doughnut straw hats for the ladies, pajamas decorated with doughnuts, and a recording of "The Doughnut Song" by folk singer Burl Ives.

DEBTOR FINALLY FREED — Bernard J. Smith, 24-year-old Fair Haven, Vt., army combat veteran, was finally released from jail at Rutland, Vt., after 26 months in the lockup under Vermont's 142-year-old debtor law. He was freed after taking a "poor debtor's oath" stating that his personal property was valued at less than $20. Smith said he was trying to get back the job he was promised in 1948, and above demonstrates his compassion for the jailed by releasing a bird from a cage.

He even persuaded Emily Post to endorse the custom of dunking "providing the doughnut is first broken in half."

Others Muscled In
Like all frontiersmen of the intellect, Nevins feels he has been copied.

"Now there are too many weeks of all kinds overlapping each other," he objected. "This whole idea of special weeks may kill it if we get many more. It is getting promiscuous."

He is mulling over a plan to call all interested parties together and get them to divide up the year on a sensible basis.

"After all there are only 52 weeks," he said regretfully. So, a happy doughnut week to you! It is also National Coin Week, National Want Ad Week and National Noise Abatement Week.

MALONE, N. Y. — (AP) — Two-year-old Michael Moutz watched his father grind hamburger, then tried to imitate him.

Woman Flies Plane At Natick, Mass., For Her 102nd Birthday

NATICK, Mass. — (AP) — Lively Mrs. Lydia Stevens is celebrating her coming 102nd birthday—in the air.

She took a plane ride over scenic north shore area but didn't think much of it until she took over the controls.

Then she said, "I loved it." And Mrs. Stevens, who last flew on her 90th birthday, said she intends to do a great deal more flying.

She told the pilot of the dual control plane that the trip was "successful" so he turned over operation of the ship to her for a few minutes.

And on her birthday she will be flown by the American Airlines from Boston to New York.

With a gleam in her eyes, she said she probably will allow all the crew members on that flight to give her a big kiss.

"I let the men kiss me because they can tell their friends they have kissed a girl over 100 years old."

Trout Fishing Opens April 15 On Black River

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
LANING—The eyes of every trout fisherman planning to open the general season in two weeks on the Black River in Mackinac county.

Under an experimental regulation, that river from the Peters Truck Trail bridge down to the mouth opens this weekend to fishing for rainbow trout only.

The special April 15 opening on the species is another attempt to find means of harvesting the huge crop of rainbows which run up the streams early in the spring to spawn and often return to the great lakes before the regular season opens on the last Saturday in April.

Whether the success ratio of the hordes of fishermen expected at the special opening will tell anything about prospects for the general opening is problematical.

Cold And High
There will be so many fishermen, for one thing, that the percentage which catches fish will probably be small.

In the second place, two weeks can make a tremendous difference in the weather. The fishermen who travel to the Black River will find snow all over the place. This week's blizzard in the Upper Peninsula is not what you would call good for trout fishing.

Even if the snow melts, the river will be cold and high. Normally this doesn't make the trout very hungry.

Early indications for the general opening April 29 in the Lower Peninsula, at least, are all to the good.

The long delayed spring break-up and the heavy snows which must melt sometime in the Upper Peninsula makes the prospects there a lot dimmer.

But in the Lower Peninsula, indications were that despite a lot of rain and snow, streams would be at about normal levels on opening day.

The Au Sable river, which besides being the state's leading trout stream is a pretty good barometer of other Lower Peninsula streams, is reported only five or six inches above normal.

At the same time, there is little snow on the ground which could melt off in the two weeks remaining.

Guides are predicting that the water may even be a little low on opening day.

Planting Delayed
F. A. Westerman, conservation department fish division chief, said there ought to be plenty of fish in the streams and lakes. The winter was not severe and merranser ducks, which sometimes have to prey on trout streams were able this winter to work in much open water on lakes.

Veteran guides have reported that the spawning season this winter was the busiest they had ever seen and that they had never seen so many spawning trout.

Conservation department planting crews are having trouble planting the swarms of legal-sized trout which are dumped into the streams before the season. Mud and snow-clogged back roads are slowing the operation.

The many trout fishermen who prefer to catch wild trout consider this no drawback at all.

RAPID RIVER—Stamp collectors and all interested in stamp collecting in Rapid River and vicinity are invited to meet at the Lester Duncan home at 7:30 on Friday evening to take preliminary steps in the formation of a local collectors' club.

Rapid River collectors have been attending meetings of the Escanaba Philatelic society and have been getting together informally. As the number of stamp collectors here has grown to over a dozen, it is believed that a local club would be of help to all who enjoy the hobby.

Houghton Portrait Painted 10 Years Ago Given To U-M

ANN ARBOR—A portrait of Dr. Douglas Houghton that is 100 years old has been given to the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.

The portrait adds another important item to the Collections' material on the noted physician and geologist who was responsible for the discovery of the Upper Peninsula's mineral riches, according to Dr. F. Clever Bald, assistant director of the Collections.

The portrait was given to the Collections by Mrs. Theodosia H. Thode and her brother, Douglas Houghton, grandniece and grandnephew respectively of the scientist. They now reside in Arcadia, California.

Painted By Bradish

The painting is the work of Alva Bradish, an artist who painted portraits of all the men of note in Michigan a century ago. He was on the University faculty as a professor of fine arts from 1892 to 1893. The portrait bears his signature and the date 1890. This was five years after Houghton's death, but Dr. Bald is certain the painting was made from an 1835 portrait for which Houghton had posed.

The subject of the painting had a most unusual career, according to Dr. Bald. Born in Troy, New York, in 1809, Dr. Houghton was graduated in 1828 from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He was admitted to practice as a physician, and was soon appointed assistant professor of chemistry and natural history.

In 1830 he was invited to go to Detroit to lecture on chemistry and geology. His evident ability as a scientist and his attractive personality made so great an impression that he was asked to remain. In Detroit he practiced medicine, performing heroic service in the cholera epidemic in 1834. He continued his scientific research, accompanying Henry R. Schoolcraft as physician and botanist in 1831 on his expedition to discover the source of the Mississippi.

Named Geologist

Appointed state geologist of Michigan in 1837, the first to hold the office, his untiring explorations led to the discovery of salt in the Lower Peninsula and of copper and iron in the Upper. In 1839, he was appointed professor of chemistry, mineralogy and geology at the University of Michigan.

Students' Tag Day Nets $375.50 For Delta Cancer Fund

The 1950 Cancer Crusade was given a flying start in Escanaba Saturday when an enthusiastic group of Junior high school students raised $375.50 for the fund by selling tags.

Those selling were: Florence Lock, Marlene Seidl, Mary Larson, Nancy McLaughlin, Thera LaFrenier, Janet Benard, Rosemary Nault, Kathleen Parker, Joan Jensen, Maxine Koch, Lois Hanson, Ruth Baldwin, Marjory Walk, Nancy Christensen, Dorothy Beauchamp, Fay Scott, Joan Froberg from the ninth and seventh grades.

Eighth graders, with whom the project originated, were: Donna Carlson, Emilie Sauvo, Patsy Sheedlo, Mary Helen Costley, Barbara Peterson, Ruth Pearce, Carol Westerberg, Carol Carr, Catherine Promer, Mary Ellen Niederauer, Nancy Gasman, Ann Kranz, Barbara Anderson, Barbara Desilets, Mary Baker, Rosemary Hossale, Patricia Sarasin, Lynette Herro, Sharon Bennett, Charlotte Knutson, Ruth Hanson, RoseAnn Perryman, Pauline Groff, Bernice Kasbohm, Mary Beauchamp, Joyce Johnson, Mary Lee Nelson, Jacqueline Chartrand, Joan Santimere, Judy Santimere, Joanne Servant, Marvella Juhl, Ruth Haring, Doreen Fitzpatrick, Loretta Krause, Janet Costley, Donna Hurdy, Nancy Gosselin, Carol Hart, Leila Sivertsen, Bill LeMire, James Norman, Dick Johnson, Clarence Wallin, Charles Perryman, Dick Savord, Jon Sheedlo, Neil O'Donnell, Ed Gallagher, and Peter Sabourin.

Dr. Houghton was drowned while pursuing his exploration of the Upper Peninsula when, on October 14, 1845, his boat sank in a storm off Eagle River. A great monument of native rocks has been erected there in his memory, and his name appears on one of the four sides of the marble cenotaph on the campus of the university near the library. At the time of his death, Dr. Houghton was only 36 years old.

This is the most recent gift made to the Collections by Mrs. Thode and Houghton. Earlier they had given valuable papers of their grandfather, Jacob Houghton, a brother to Douglass and one of the developers of the Upper Peninsula.

Of Lecture Here

DR. CARL D. SOULE

Carl D. Soule, staff member of the Commission on World Peace of the Methodist church, will speak at the First Methodist church on Tuesday evening, April 18. The engagement, sponsored by the Evening Circle of the Methodist church here, is of timely interest for it will deal with the work of the church in Germany.

Mr. Soule, in dealing with his subject, will not only touch on the work of the Methodist church in post war Germany, but will also deal with the work of churches in general.

The speaker is thoroughly versed in his subject because he has made Europe and its relation to the church a matter of many years' study.

In the summer of 1949 he cooperated with Dr. Willard Uphouse, Methodist layman and secretary of the Religion and Labor Foundation, in leading a similar group of sixteen ministers and laymen to Great Britain. In August of that year he visited German Methodistism strengthened the will for peace and the organization for peace in annual conferences with the local churches. His talk Tuesday will deal largely with these experiences.

Majors Open Without Feller Or Newhouser

Veteran Aces Sit On Bench

But DiMaggio Will Play In Opener

NEW YORK—(AP)—Big league baseball returns tomorrow with all 16 "contenders" poised for the opening after healthy talent turn-overs.

Now we'll get first hand proof on who outkicked whom in the New York Giants-Boston Braves deal. We'll see if Detroit is as good as it looks. If the "experts" were right in predicting a Brooklyn-Dodger-Boston Red Sox world series.

It will be a strange opening day. No Hal Newhouser pitching for Detroit. No Bobby Feller for Cleveland. No Rip Sewell for Pittsburgh.

Newhouser is out with arm trouble. Feller has been bypassed for Bob Lemon. Sewell, winner of 10 straight openers, is managing in the minors.

Joe DiMaggio, usually a Johns Hopkins hospital patient at this stage of the game, will be in center field for the New York Yankees. The Yankee Clipper missed nine of 14 previous openers.

Sid Gordon, Willard Marshall and Buddy Kerr—three boys who never played for any big league club except the Giants—come to the Polo grounds as enemy Boston Braves. Alvin Dark, hoisted from a college campus by the Braves, will be playing on the other side for the Giants.

Something New Two old friends are back as managers. Bucky Harris at Washington and Luke Sewell at Cincinnati. Both are consigned to last place or thereabouts.

Here's how they'll line up tomorrow with the probable attendance:

American League
New York at Boston 32,000
Detroit at Cleveland 60,000
Philadelphia at Washington 26,000
St. Louis at Chicago 18,000

National League
Brooklyn at Philadelphia 32,000
Boston at New York 30,000
Chicago at Cincinnati 32,000
Pittsburgh at St. Louis (night) 30,000

You'll note the "night" after Pittsburgh at St. Louis. That's something new. Never before has a major league club opened the season under the lights. President Fred Saign, a confirmed believer in night ball, is the pioneer. It will be a healthy box office move. The Cards will play most of their weekday games after dark. So will the St. Louis Browns and Washington. In all, 409 night games have been scheduled, a new high. Advance ticket sales for this jubilee year of baseball indicate continued high attendance. Last year the majors drew 20,215,365 only 3 per cent behind the 1948 high. If it drops only 3 per cent again, all will make money.

Outboard Racers To Meet Sunday

Several Escanaba and Gladstone outboard racing fans are planning to attend the organization meeting of the Upper Peninsula Outboard Racing association next Sunday afternoon at the Crystal Inn, Crystal Falls.

Following a dinner meeting, dates for regatta will be worked out and there will be a discussion of rules and plans for the season. Waldemar Elson of Ishpeming is commodore of the association.

High Scores Set In ABC Opener

COLUMBUS, O. — (AP) — This American Bowling Congress tournament has 58 days to go after Sunday's second-day firing, but already it looks like the scores will be fancy.

The scoring Sunday, first day for minor event, was unusual for 50 early in the tournament. Four teams topped 2,700—Ainslie's five of Johnson City, N. Y., doing 2,749 for fourth place. Bill's five of Elmira, N. Y., leads with 2,802.

John Strobel of Milwaukee took three firsts in the minor events — helped greatly in the doubles by Carl Ray. Strobel's 1,847 in the all-events is nothing to be sneezed at. He shot 575 with the team, 593 in the doubles and 679 in the singles.

BIG TEN BARS TV

CHICAGO — (AP)—The powerful Big Ten, whose athletic policies usually keynote the trend for the nation's other major conferences, has barred live television of all its 1950 football games. The decision of athletic directors will cost the Western conference and its member schools an estimated $500,000 in TV revenue rights that could have been saved up in 1950.

MOVES TO SECOND ROUND

CHICAGO—(AP)—Paul Merlow of Detroit advanced to the second round in the singles matches of the National A.A.U. handball tournament here Sunday by beating Dave Cohen, New York, 21-9, 21-11. Walter Plekan of Buffalo defeated Leonard Melman, Detroit, 21-0, 21-8.

Top Bowling Standings Get Big Shuffle

Standings in the Upper Peninsula Bowling association tournament underwent a wholesale shuffling as a result of a heavy weekend of pin spilling at the Arcade alleys.

Hal Shelled By Louisville

There Is Woe In Tiger Camp

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (AP)—Ten losses, 21 wins, and the best spring season in years.

That's the record the Detroit Tigers carry with them today as they journey to Cleveland for the start of the regular baseball season.

The Bengals lost a chance to pad that average still more in their exhibition finale Sunday, losing to the Louisville Colonels, 8 to 4.

But the Tigers also found more woe in the game—their ace left-hander, Hal Newhouser, still didn't appear ready to take over a starting job.

In the three innings he hurled against the Colonels, the big southpaw gave up three singles, two runs and a walk. He also favored his troublesome arm.

After the game, Manager Red Rolfe indicated that he wasn't counting on Newhouser for early spring games. He said he was "disappointed."

"I may use him in relief roles," Rolfe said, adding that Newhouser "just wasn't throwing his stuff, didn't have his fast ball."

Calvert Shelled
The losing hurler was Paul Calvert, who followed Newhouser to the mound. He, in turn, was succeeded by Virgil Trucks and Marv Grissom.

Calvert, obtained from Washington for relief roles, was belted for five runs in the fifth inning. That included a three run homer by the Colonel's Kenny Chapman.

The Tigers started off well, with Johnny Lipon coming home in the first inning on George Kell's single. But the Colonels went ahead 2-1 in the second on a walk to Taft Wright and hits by Chapman and Babe Martin.

Then, in the third, the Tigers came back with a three-run bang. These were scored on a walk and successive singles by Kell, Vic Wertz, Johnny Groth and Dick Kryhoski.

But after that, Bob Nixon, 20-year-old righthander who went seven innings for Louisville, settled down and kept his hits scattered for no scores. Nixon, incidentally, looked plenty good.

The Colonels added their final run in the eighth inning off Grissom. The loss was the Tigers' first in their last six starts.

Line score:
Detroit (A) 103 000 000—4 12 0
Louisville (AA) 020 050 01x—8 10 0
Newhouser, Calvert (4), Trucks (8), Grissom (8) and Robinson; Nixon, Coleman (8) and Martin.

OPENS AT HOME

ANN ARBOR — (AP) — Wayne university was scheduled here today to open University of Michigan's 19 game regular baseball season. The Wolverines, who returned last night from a successful southern trip that included six victories and two losses, were expected to start either pitcher Bob Larson or Al Virgona. Michigan Saturday split a doubleheader with the University of Virginia, taking the first game 5-4 and losing the second 4-1.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Blue Monday . . . so let's look at the mail box.
From Frank Karas, former Eskymo and MSC griddier, comes:
"It was a pleasure to learn you were back in the haven of all good Scandinavians. In many respects, I envy you because I have many fond recollections of the 'Miami of the North.'"

Frank, as most of you know, now is line coach at Ferris Institute at Big Rapids, which has many loyal alumni (including our former state representative, Roy Jensen) in this area. Ferris, in case you missed it, recently had a disastrous fire.

"The fire," Frank writes, "has caused us many inconveniences. However, the prospects of a bigger and better Ferris seem bright. Action from the legislature one way or the other should be forthcoming within the next few weeks."

Thanks for the letter, Frank. We're hoping for you and Ferris. Our interest in Ferris stems from 40 years ago when the best Mom in the world (mine) went to school there.

Earl LeBrasseur of the Manistique Elks writes:
"Welcome back to God's country. Come over to 'Stique and renew acquaintances soon."

"Last week was a big week on our alleys for 'Ot' Schuster. He put together three games of 233-241-226 for a neat 700 total. (Note, you U. P. tournament bowlers)."

"Carl Carlson had 636 with 225-196-215 and Ed Busch had 209-168-234 for 611. George Babladelis had the week's high single game, a 'measley' 265."

"The last half cellar team, Eat Shop, is way out in front right now."

Thanks, Earl. We'll be over one of these days soon.

Ray Ranguette, superintendent at Cooks and no mean high school cager himself, writes:
"Here are a few of the accomplishments of our Keith Cutler, who is a junior and will be back next year (he was named to the Central U. P. league all-star team)."

"He scored 92 points as a freshman and dropped in the winning 'long tom' three years ago that gave Cooks the district championship in an overtime tilt against Cedarville at Rapid River."

"Cutler also scored 303 points as a sophomore and 484 as a junior, for a total of 879 in three years. (Ray didn't say it but seems to us he scored something like 58 in one game this year against Grand Marais)."

"He is an honor student and stars on the Cooks championship baseball team at third base or outfield."

If the boy has a level head (and we are assured he has) he ought to go places.

Lumley Gives Wings "In" On Cup Title

TORONTO—(AP)—The law of averages and an apple-cheeked goalie named Harry Lumley made the Detroit Red Wings almost prohibitive favorites today to win the National Hockey League's Stanley cup.

The Red Hings, regular season champions, have won two of the first three games with the New York Rangers in the best-of-seven final series. Moreover, the Wings now move back to their home ice for the rest of the schedule.

The fourth game will be played Tuesday night, the fifth Thursday. The Red Wings are so tough at home that many hockey fans predict it won't go any farther than that.

An exception is Coach Lynn Patrick of the Rangers, who says grumbly, "I still think we can win."

But Patrick acknowledged he must find some way to smash the rugged defense work of Lumley, the 23-year-old shutout specialist of 'he league champions.

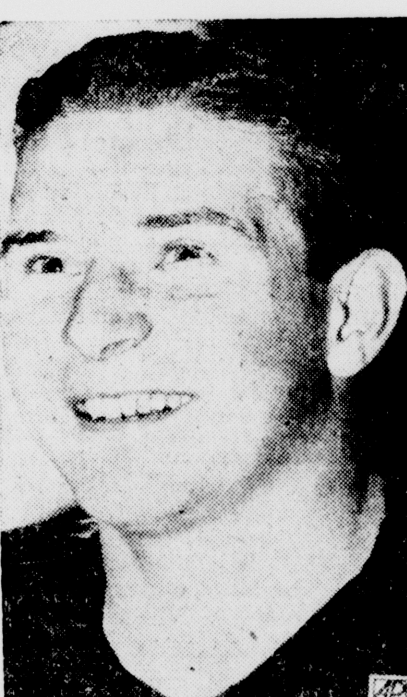

Lumley has fashioned three blankings during the post-season playoffs including 4-0 whitewash of the Rangers in the important third game of the final series here Saturday night.

Veteran of six National league campaigns, he has been one of the standouts in the Red Wings' success this year. He blocked 24 Ranger shots Saturday night.

Patrick said he wasn't satisfied with the Rangers' performance and he called a meeting of his athletes today to plan a new strategy.

"I've been kicking several lines up changes around in my head," he said. "Three players didn't show up well in the last game—Tony Leswick, Ed Slowinski and Nick Mickowski."

"I may try Don Smith in Mickowski's place on the right wing with Buddy O'Connor."

Negro Girls Disappoint; Giant Absent

It was a stinkeroo!
And the Escanaba Independent softball team, which sponsored Sunday's basketball game involving the so-called "Chocolate Coeds," Negro girls' team, was wondering today whether it would ever take another chance at booking a traveling basketball team.

The "Coeds" were supposed to have had a 6-foot, 7-inch center, Helen "Streamline" Smith. That fact alone helped draw about 400 fans to the St. Joe gym.

When the team arrived, they announced that Miss Smith was ill and had gone back to Chicago. In addition to not having Miss Smith, the visiting team appeared with only four girls, augmented by two men players.

And they made a rule that the Escanaba team couldn't shoot offensively rebounds.

Offered to Refund Money

When Stan Abrahamson, business manager of the Independents learned the "deal," he realized he had landed a "tartar." So it was announced that any fans dissatisfied with the game would have their money refunded.

The game was booked through Dick Hudson, representing the Midwest Sport Attractions of Fond du Lac, Wis., which is headed by Matt Boule.

The All-Stars did their best to give the fans a good show to make up for the "flop" of the visiting team. With Tom St. Germain, Roy Johnson, Don Lewis and the boys putting on a ball-handling show, the fans saw a good act. They defeated the visitors by four points but the score was only incidental.

In a preliminary, the Merchants defeated the Clairmont Transfers.

"We want to apologize to Escanaba fans," said Abrahamson. "We booked this team in good faith and were disappointed as the fans in the outcome. We'll think twice before we book a deal like this again."

The softball team will meet tonight at the home of Rod Lindstrom, 314 North 18th street.

TOURNEYS OPENS

PINEHURST, N. C. — (AP)—Qualifying play began today in the 50th annual north and south amateur men's invitation golf tournament with more than two players seeking each of the available 64 positions. Defending Champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, was assigned the favorite's role.

Rainbow Loop Plans To Have Ten Teams

GLADSTONE — The Rainbow league laid plans Sunday for expansion to a 10-team loop.

Opening date for league play was tentatively set for May 21.

At an informal organization meeting at the Yacht club, the managers voted unanimously to admit Wells and North Lake to the erstwhile eight-team circuit.

Wells was represented by Ray Breitman and Ed Deiter and North Lake by Calvin Dalton and John Judice. The latter team won the Hiawatha league title in 1949.

In addition to Wells and North Lake, there is a possibility that the Marquette Legion may be represented by a team this summer. The Marquette interests were represented at the meeting by Bob Alexander.

A formal organization meeting will be held at Trenary on Sunday, April 30, when officers will be elected, by-laws adopted and the schedule announced.

Other teams represented here Sunday were: Chatham by Onen Posio; Diorite by Carl Grundt, Bob Laakso, Nels Paavala, Lyle Oge and Don Pearce; Gladstone by George Mathison, league secretary; Gwinn by E. L. Miller, league vice president, and Jack Ghiardi, Manistique by Fred Lesica; Munising by George Sharkey and Ed Jokipii and Trenary by George Brown, league president, and Louis Carr.

Negaunee, eighth team in the league last year, was not represented but is expected to have a team in the league.

Wolverine Gridders Back To Practices

ANN ARBOR — (AP)—Michigan football coach Bennie Oosterbaan recalled his vacationing football squad here today for the final five weeks of spring practice.

The spring squad of 150 members already had completed one week of drill before adjourning for spring vacation.

The Michigan coach promised plenty of hard work for the Big Ten co-champions in the remaining five weeks with the emphasis on fundamentals and selection of personnel.

Senator Byrd Sees Socialistic State In Truman's Fair Deal

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va.—(AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) contends President Truman's "fair deal" program would "commit us irrevocably to a socialistic state from which there can be no retreat."

In an address before a meeting of the Southwest Electric Exchange here Wednesday, Byrd posed these questions:

"If he says he is against socialism, why is he advocating the pressurizing of Congress to adopt socialized medicine?"

"Why is he advocating the Brannan plan, which inevitably means socialized agriculture?"

"Why is he constantly advocating an extension of the number of those who receive government benefits?"

Although "deficit spending and socialism are twins of evil," the president wants to spend $8,000,000,000 more beginning July 1 than was spent in 1948, the last year the budget was balanced, said Byrd, a long-time advocate of more economy in government.

Council Is Vital, Students Claim

U. Of M. Gymnasts Perform At Meeting

More than 300 students of 29 Upper Michigan high schools convened here Saturday for the second annual high school citizenship conference, and concluded that the student council is a key organization in a high school and is the liaison group between students and the faculty.

In recorders reports on the various sessions students emphasized their conviction that a student council is vital in development of school spirit and reassured that the council exists to serve and not to be served.

They reported that in some Upper Michigan high schools, student courts had been tried, but found that setting a good example was a more powerful force than dictation of conduct patterns through student courts.

Two Speakers
"Upper Michigan schools have some very good and very active student councils," Dr. L. E. Vredevoe, director of the University of Michigan bureau of school services, observed in summarizing the conference. Doctor Vredevoe emphasized the importance of student councils in discussion of mutual school problems, especially in extra-curricular activity.

The conference, under auspices of the U. of M. Extension service, the university bureau of school services and the faculties of Escanaba, Gladstone, Rapid River and Bark River high schools, was devoted to discussion of student participation in school administration. The aim of the conferences is improvement of school student councils.

Principal conference speakers were Fred Miller, consultant in the bureau of school services, and Doctor Vredevoe. Students of the sponsoring high schools served as chairmen of discussion sessions and as recorders.

U. of M. Gymnasts
Students were entertained at the close of the conference with performances by three University of Michigan gymnasts and their instructor, Newton C. Loken. Robert Smith, U. of M. drum major, gave an exhibition of drumming, with emphasis on intricate routines. Tom Tellman of Muskegon and Robert Wilby of Ann Arbor performed on the trampoline.

Newton Loken, whose team placed third in the Big Nine conference in 1948 and second in 1949, gave an excellent exhibition of trampoline work, combining comic costuming and jokes with his performance.

The conference concluded with a dance in the high school gymnasium.

Russians Free Jap Generals

TOKYO (AP)—Russia today returned 38 Japanese generals and three admirals captured during the last days of World War II. They were among 1,600 prisoners landed at Maizuru from Siberia. Today's arrival raised to more than 6,000 the number of Japanese prisoners repatriated since Russia announced last fall that she didn't have any more. American and Japanese authorities charged later the Russians still had not accounted for more than 370,000.

After these charges the Russians said nothing, just began sending back an occasional shipload. Today's was the third. Even as it docked another sailed for the Siberian port of Nahodka to pick up some more.

One repatriate today said Japan's former Manchurian puppet emperor, Henry Pu-Yi, is being treated as any other Manchurian since Russia recognized Communist China. Formerly he had been reported accorded more privileges by the Russians than most of the other prisoners.

Public Payrolls Keep 40 Of Every 1,000, Census Bureau Finds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Of every 1,000 Americans, 40 are on a federal, state or local public payroll. And that doesn't include members of the armed forces.

The census bureau said in reporting that figure yesterday that the total number of public employees in October was at a record 6,204,000, or more than one-tenth of all U. S. workers (59,000,000). Their pay for that month was $1,406,000,000.

That amounts to about $16,870,000,000 a year. The commerce department has estimated that when the 1,500,000 service personnel are included the total annual public payroll runs to about $21,800,000,000.

Of the total government workers, the federal government accounted for 2,047,000, the state 1,037,000 and smaller governmental units—cities, counties, schools, and the like—3,120,000.

Japan Is Land Of Shortages

Horwood Says Orient Is Trouble Spot

Japan and the Orient have an over-abundant population and a shortage of food and other resources, making it the trouble spot of the world, Russell Horwood told the Escanaba Rotary club at its meeting today noon.

Horwood, superintendent of the Michigan State college experiment station at Chatham, spent considerable time in Japan with the natural resources section of the U. S. military government. His particular job was in agricultural research and extension service and his work took him to all sections of the country.

Japan, two and one-half times the size of Michigan, has a food production area about as large as three southern Michigan counties—and a population of 80,000,000, one-half that of the entire United States.

The Japanese population growth is about 1,100,000 annually, a problem in over-abundance that makes the shortage of food and natural resources most acute, Horwood pointed out. Farms average about two acres with rice the principal crop.

The United States in taking over the Japanese out-lying territories has returned about 6,000,000 Japanese to the islands, making the situation more critical. Yet the United States has aided Japan materially in the postwar period and through agricultural extension programs has helped relieve some of the food shortage.

"Japan and the Orient are the problem area of the world," Horwood said. "If we are genuinely interested in world peace, we should give those people our assistance."

Search For Missing Naval Bomber Crew Given Up In Baltic

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—The big aerial search for the U. S. navy patrol bomber which disappeared mysteriously over the Baltic Sea with ten men aboard was abandoned today.

The only possible clue to the fate of the plane, last heard from a week ago last Saturday at the same time the Russians said their fighters exchanged shots with an American bomber over Latvia, was a yellow life raft found yesterday floating in the sea.

The life raft, its food containers empty, was found by the little British freighter Beechland about 45 miles east of Stockholm, Sweden. The spot is 200 miles north of the Latvian city of Lepava (Libau) where the Soviets say their fighters chased off a U. S. bomber.

Island Fishing Town Of Cedar Keys, Fla. Is Saved From Fire

CEDAR KEYS, Fla. (AP)—This little island fishing town was saved from fire yesterday by a stiff wind, firemen from two towns and coastguardsmen.

A 500-foot section of pier was destroyed along with three fisheries. Three other businesses on the pier were damaged. Levy county commissioner Randolph Hodges estimated total loss at $33,000.

No casualties were reported. Gainesville and Chiefland firemen and the crew of a Coast Guard buoy tender brought the fire under control after a few hours. A brisk east wind kept the flames from licking the town. Cedar Keys is just off Florida's west coast in the Gulf of Mexico. It has 988 people.

Reynolds Shop Here Is Sold

W. I. Morrisons Take Over This Week

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reynolds of this city today announced the sale of their store, the Reynolds shop at 812 Ludington street, to Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Morrison of Davenport, Iowa.

The new owners plan to re-decorate the shop as soon as inventory is completed, and expect to be ready for business by this weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison are former Upper Michigan residents and lived in Manistique for a number of years. Mr. Morrison was born in Garden and lived in Manistique until he was 25 years of age.

The Reynolds, who have operated the shop continuously since it was started by them 31 years ago, will continue to make their home in Escanaba. They plan to travel extensively within the next few years.

Mr. Reynolds operated a Singer Sewing machine agency and hem stitching shop in Escanaba, before he opened his first retail store at 704 Ludington street. Five years later the store was moved to the 1000 block of Ludington street, and was the site of the Reynolds shop until 1932, when the business was moved to its present location.

In the early years of the business, the Reynolds made a large amount of children's clothing. At that time, they state, only a few items of infant and children's wear were made in factories. Among articles made by the Reynolds were diapers, bands, nightgowns and dresses.

The Morrisons will operate the store on the same quality lines now handled by the shop.

Escaped Killer Tries To Hurt Wife, Runs Up Another Murder

JELICO, Tenn. (AP)—A trusty convict escaped from prison Saturday night, stole a truck and crashed it into a restaurant trying to hurt his wife who is divorcing him.

His wife escaped injury. But an innocent bystander, P. L. Hill, 25, was fatally injured. Sheriff Rose Kitts identified the convict as Richard Rue, 40, serving a 10-year sentence for second degree murder. Rue was being considered for parole, but now, the sheriff said, is charged with another murder.

Rue was quoted as saying he got a letter from his wife asking for her freedom and rushed here in a state-owned truck. He went to the restaurant where Mrs. Rue worked as a waitress, argued with her, and became infuriated when ordered out.

Little Boy Killed

In $1,000,000 Wreck

ADDIS, La. (AP)—A heavily laden freight train left the tracks here yesterday, telescoped 25 cars and burst into flames, killing one boy and causing $1,000,000 damage.

The railroad station, loading sheds and 19 cars were destroyed by the fire. A few hours later the body of Roy Washington, 4, was recovered from the debris. He had gone to the station to get water. Seven tank cars loaded with crude oil and butane, a manufactured gas, fed the flames.

Vardiman Talks To Kiwanians

Hudson Bay Area Is Described

The Hudson Bay country was the subject of an interesting illustrated talk delivered by Bud Vardiman, lubricating engineer of the Standard Oil company, at the meeting of the Kiwanis club this noon.

Vardiman went on a hunting and fishing trip in the Canadian region last fall. He displayed colored slides of many outdoor scenes he photographed on the trip.

The speaker described the history and operations of the Hudson Bay railroad, which was built in the 70s from The Pas, Manitoba to Churchill, on Hudson Bay. Purpose of the railroad is to transport grain from the Canadian wheat fields to the elevators at Churchill from which the cargoes are taken by boat to Europe.

Vardiman said that Churchill is a community of about 100 families. There are no doctors, dentists, hospital and undertakers there. Water and lights are supplied to the community by the elevator, which is owned by the provincial governments.

Hunting and fishing are good in the region, but because of its remoteness few American sportsmen go to the region. Vardiman said. The Eskimos depend upon caribou for their meat and clothing. During the migrations, the train on the Hudson Bay Railroad is forced to stop for hours while the herds cross the tracks.

Confederate Veteran Enjoys Party At 104

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Thomas Evans Riddle, one of Texas' four living Confederate veterans, celebrated his 104th birthday yesterday.

Riddle said that he enjoyed the party more than when he was serving with Company I, 22nd regiment of the Army of Tennessee on April 16, 1864—his 18th birthday.

Riddle, at the Texas Confederate home for men, said yesterday he is especially proud to have fought under Gen. Robert E. Lee at Gettysburg, and he thinks the atom bomb is "pretty terrible."

He was born in Tennessee in 1846 and came to Texas in 1879.

that this apparently kills the bill for this session.

"I didn't say that," Kerr said. "I only say that I haven't any plans yet as to just what I should do," he added.

"This is only a skirmish," an Oklahoma City, the Daily Oklahoman said in a story from its Washington bureau that Charles Murphy, chief counsel to Mr. Truman, had handed the bill to Senator Kerr with the blessing of the White House.

The newspaper said the president "was unable to withstand the great pressure brought against it after its passage."

Whatever his view before Congress passed the bill, Mr. Truman left no doubt in his veto message Saturday that he endorsed the arguments of its opponents.

He said that natural gas purchasers couldn't move from one source of supply to another in search of lower prices and therefore competition is limited.

He added that there ought to be authority, for use if needed, to block "windfall profits to gas producers at the expense of consumers, with no benefit to the nation in terms of additional exportation and production."

In view of the close votes in Congress on the bill, some backers said flatly there was no use trying to override the veto—an action that would require approval by two-thirds of those voting in both houses.

Harbor Blocked At Grand Marais

Fishermen Bemoan Late Start

GRAND MARAIS, Mich.—The fish tug Delos H. Smith II, operated by the Grasser Fish company, has been breaking a channel across Grand Marais bay to the inside pier light.

The bay ice is solid and varies from 16 to 22 inches thick. It shows no signs at present of deteriorating. The ice condition is the worst in years and fishermen expect a late start. Last year, they made their first lift on March 30.

Even with the harbor itself opened, the boats cannot get out of the bay until a strong south wind carries the loose ice away from the shore.

Grain Seeding Rule Is Cited

Recommend 1 1/2 to 2 Bushels An Acre

Seeding of 1 1/2 to 2 bushels of spring grains an acre generally gives the best results, D. L. Clanan, farm crops extension specialist at Michigan State college advised today.

With spring planting time approaching, Clanan says many farmers will present good arguments for either lighter or heavier seeding of barley or oats in Michigan. "Seasons vary and their effects on crops also varies. Since we're unable to predict the type of season it is best to use the rate of seeding that experience has shown to be the best over a period of years," the specialist related.

Thick stands are more likely to lodge and a lighter seeding favors the legume crop which is often seeded with the spring grain.

Growers who have found it necessary to use amounts greater than two bushels to the acre to get a good stand should check their management against that recommended. Clean tested seed, treated against disease factors, planted in a well prepared, firm seed bed at a rate not greater than two bushels an acre should give good stands and yields under normal conditions, Clanan thinks.

Air Force Buys New Planes And Supplies For $1,300,000,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force will have bought about 1,250 new planes and aircraft equipment, at a cost of approximately $1,300,000,000, during the 12-month period ending June 30.

Officials said the defense department will make these figures public soon, possibly within a week. The Air Force has been preparing them for several months, but the totals still are subject to change due to contract renegotiations and switches in specifications.

President Truman has asked $1,350,000,000 for new Air Force and Navy aircraft in the fiscal as a naval base. "I am very much interested in that," Mrs. Roosevelt replied, "but if you were going to restore to Russia what she had had before, that wasn't giving her anything new. That was simply giving back to her what Japan had taken away. I don't think that was anything peculiar. That was more or less what one would expect, isn't it?"

(Russia seized the port from China in 1897, and lost it to Japan in the Russo-Japanese war ending in 1905. The Japs held it until 1945).

Communism Coddled
Dr. Fairbank cut in and told the group to "stop fighting the last war." Lauterbach said the key to China is her poverty, and Magnuson told Hurley he didn't know Chinese history.

But Hurley returned to the attack when Mrs. Roosevelt said "we wanted Russia's help very badly—you might not do it today, but you certainly had every reason to do it then."

"We gave it to them because we were in favor of Communism," the general returned.

"Who was in favor of Communism?" Magnuson demanded.

Mr. Hiss and the crowd at Yalta," said the general.

"That's not true," shot back Mrs. Roosevelt. "We know X X X what were the main things we aimed at in Yalta, and for you to ignore it, sir, is extraordinary."

"I just don't understand how you can ignore it."

Lauterbach broke in to ask Hurley if he had read the late Secretary of State Edward Stettinius' book on Yalta.

"All the books written now are alibis," declared the general.

The argument was still going full blast when Mrs. Roosevelt had to call time. year starting July 1, but some Congress members have urged a boost of at least $500,000,000 in that sum.

The Navy said last week that its purchases for the current fiscal year will come to about 700 planes at a cost of $235,000,000. Equipment is not included in this figure.
